REPORT OF LIBRARY TRUSTEES.

In submitting their report for the year ending February 15, 1915, the official management of the library have but little to say relative to the work and operation of the institution that is essentially different from that of former years.

It is a matter of much satisfaction to again note that there has been no lessening of interest on the part of the general public in making use of the privileges of the library. Indeed, if the circulation is to be taken as evidence, there has been an increase in that direction the past year.

The record of circulation shows that 20,360 volumes were withdrawn during the year ending December 31, 1914. These figures are 2,174 larger than any previous year and are double what the circulation was the first year after the library was opened in October, 1901. It is pleasing to state, also, that but few places in the state, outside the cities, have a larger circulation and those are towns where the population is double that of Pittsfield.

FINANCIAL SUPPORT.

The financial support was practically the same as for the previous year. What it was and how it was expended will be learned from an inspection of the annexed treasurer's report.

ACCESSION OF BOOKS.

There was a larger accession of books the past year than in any previous year. The total number was 567. In making the selection an effort was made to purchase books that should meet the wants and tastes of readers of all ages.

Within the past few months Mrs. Georgia A. Carpenter of Manchester again manifested her interest in the library by presenting it one hundred and fifty dollars. The major part of this was expended in the purchase of books which has aided very materially in supplying the demand at the loan desk.

There were two gifts of books that make a very valuable addition to the literature of the institution. One was a set of eight volumes of pen and pencil sketches of the lives of more than two hundred of the most prominent personages in history. They were the gift of the late Mrs. Alice (Mathews) Rice of Lynn who was born and passed her maidenhood days here.

The other was a complete set of the works of Sir Walter Scott. The set comprises twenty-five handsomely bound volumes and fills a long desired want. They were given by Mrs. Anna M. (Treat) Simonds of Waltham, Mass., and were given in memory of Isabella M. Treat, who was a native of Pittsfield.

Such donations of money and books contribute greatly in aiding the work of the library. The kindly interest thus manifested is deeply appreciated by both the official management and patrons of the institution.

There are others who have donated one or more books and the trustees herewith extend their thanks and appreciation for the kindly interest shown.

FRANK S. JENKINS,
Overseer of Poor.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the School Board of Pittsfield:

I submit herewith to you and to the townspeople my fifth annual report as superintendent of schools. There are many school matters which might be considered with profit but limitations of space make it wise to confine this report largely to certain special features.

I believe the most hopeful development during the year was the organization of a parent-teacher association. This is an organization of parents, teachers, and townspeople in general who are interested in better schools, better homes, a better community, and in child welfare in all its phases. We are everywhere recognizing more fully the mutual responsibilities of the home and the school in the education and training of the boys and girls. This organization aims to bring about a better mutual understanding and greater co-operation between these two great institutions. Opportunity is given for a frank discussion of school matters and all matters pertaining to child welfare. The first meeting was held the last of November when State Superintendent H. C. Morrison gave an address which every citizen ought to have heard. When this association gets fully at work I am confident that it will prove itself of real worth to the community. I commend it to the townspeople as worthy of their hearty support.

The interest of Mr. Ferdinand French led to the renewal, last March, of the public prize speaking contests by the high school pupils. Several years ago such a contest was an annual feature of the high school life but for some reason these contests were given up. Mr. French suggested that the custom be revived and volunteered to assume the financial responsibility. The pupils took hold of the matter with good spirit. A good program was prepared and carried through in good shape. The excellency of the work of the contestants was generally recognized and the affair was an entire success. Prizes were awarded as follows: first, Frank Buffum; second, Francena Towle; third, Cecile Blackstone. The complete program of such an event should be permanently recorded and printed as a part of the school report. In the same manner should each high school graduation program be recorded.

It is true that special events of this character take somewhat the attention and the time of the pupils from what we generally think of as the regular work of the school. However, I am of the opinion that such special work, if not overdone, may have more of value for the pupils than the regular work. Arrangements are now complete for the second contest which will be held March 5, probably before this report reaches the reader's hands.

The resignation of both assistants at the high school last June presented to the school board the opportunity of carrying out a suggestion which had been under consideration of having a man to serve as one of the assistants. Mr. LeRoy M. Handy of Worcester, Mass., was chosen. Mr. Handy took hold of the work in a way which made it evident that he was the man for the place. He had been with us scarcely five weeks when he asked for a release to accept a position in Massachusetts. Somehow teachers leaving Pittsfield invariably go to more lucrative positions. We were sorry to lose Mr. Handy. His leaving necessarily disturbed the work somewhat. We were fortunate in securing Mr. Harry Cook, a recent graduate of Dartmouth, to fill the vacancy. The position of second assistant has been held by Miss Frances A. Sinnicks of Beverley, Mass.

I have taken occasion before to call attention to what seemed to me certain defects in the plan of our high school work in that it failed largely to function with the life of the community. I believe it to be folly and positively unfair to shape our work largely so as to meet the requirements of that small number of our pupils who expect to go to college. What I am calling attention to again is everywhere being recognized. A high school should provide not merely for the few favored ones but for "all the children of all the people." We ought to aim to make it evident to all the parents that our school offers something which their children must have—in so far as we are able. Throughout this state there has been a remarkable awakening along this line. About three-fourths of all the four-year schools of the state have adopted one or more of the practical arts courses, so called. Forty-two schools have courses in household arts; twenty-four have courses in agriculture. I believe it is high time for us to make a beginning.

We have made a worthy beginning in practical work in the grades. Last year some woodwork was done by the boys under the direction of Mrs. Sheehan. In September Mr. Roland Hartwell, the newly appointed janitor, took hold of this. The boys in the seventh and eighth grades are now having work for an hour and one half each week. If anyone will take the trouble to drop in on one of the classes I think he will recognize that there is something in this of positive value to the boys. Some excellent work has been done. Here is a list of some of the things that have been made: pencil trays, coat hangers, two umbrella racks for the schools, two filing cases for the use of the superintendent, sleeveboards, wind-mills, rabbit traps, bread boards, plant stands, a tool chest, horses for use in the shop, bulletin boards for the schools. This gives some idea of the variety of the work. We have made a good start. We must extend this work.

The board decided to try the experiment of dispensing with the services of a special teacher of music for this year. The work has been going on in the grades with reasonable success but has entirely lapsed in the high school. This ought not to be.

The repairs at the little Brick school have been completed by relaying the water-pipe, some slight changes in the furnace, and grading the yard and cementing about the building. The furnace has worked to perfection this winter and there has been no trouble with water in the cellar.

If some new black-boards could be put in, this building would be in as good condition as we could hope to have it.

Steel ceilings have been put on two of the rooms at the Grammar building. This completes this work as far as the school rooms are concerned. Painting and shingling has been done at the Mountain and Jenness Pond schools.

The present furnaces at the Grammar building have been in use about twenty-six years. Some eight or ten years ago they were thought to have nearly completed their term of usefulness and at that time a ton or more of new castings were put into them. In the light of common experience it is safe enough to predict that they cannot last much longer; that they are likely to give out at any time. Last winter we had much trouble with smoke in the school rooms. The many cracks in the furnaces were puttied up last spring. We have had little trouble this year, and no trouble in heating the building. We have burned, however, over seventy cords of wood. The barn should be locked before the horse is stolen. This matter ought to have immediate attention and either a new system of heating and ventilation installed or the old one thoroughly repaired.

The expenditures this year show no marked change in total from last year. The balance appears to be some over one hundred dollars greater. At the time the books were closed about one hundred dollars was due the district for tuition, and there were bills against the district outstanding of nearly two hundred. Our actual balance then would be practically the same as last year.

The law requires that the school board report its needs for the coming school year for text-books and scholars' supplies and for flags. At a meeting of the board held February 17, it was voted that the requisition for text-books and supplies be $550 and for flags $25. Such is the estimate and request of the board.

Last year the district voted $4,200, exclusive of district officers' salaries, in addition to the amount required by law for school purposes, which requirement is for our district

$3,390. A similar appropriation ought to meet the expenses, provided we are content with the present extent of our work and no extraordinary repairs are determined upon.

I call attention to the statistical table accompanying this report. It contains information in regard to teachers, salaries, weeks of schools, attendance, etc.

Respectfully submitted,

CHANNING T. SANBORN,
Superintendent.
